

Seasons Change

DULO

Cradle the weight of your life
You can survive what lies before you
It's only a matter of time
Before the night turns into day
Oh, it should feel incredible, whoa
To know you're not alone, uh
Just look in my eyes
Whoa, just look in my eyes
I said, happy turns to sad
And sometimes life gets bad
And things get rearranged
Nothing stays the same
It just never ends, here we go again
One thing still remains
Seasons seasons change
C'mon yeah, seasons change
C'mon yeah, seasons change
C'mon yeah, seasons change
Are you scared of today, running away
I can see through you
It feels like an eternal haze, it's only a faze
It's all in your mind
Oh, when you feel invisible, uh
Just know you're not alone
Just look in my eyes
Just look in my eyes
Happy turns to sad
And sometimes life gets bad
And things get rearranged
Nothing stays the same
It just never ends
Here we go again
One thing still remains
Seasons seasons change
You can feel the air start to change
When you're walkin' out in the rain
And the colors inside your brain started fading
'Til the winter is washed away

And nothing really feels the same

When sunlight's in your eyes, you feel alive

What I really want

What I really want

What I really want

What I really want

I said, yeah, yeah, yeah

Happy turns to sad

And sometimes life gets bad

And things get rearranged

Nothing stays the same

It just never ends

Here we go again

One thing still remains

Seasons seasons change

It just never ends

Here we go again

One thing still remains

Seasons seasons change

It just never ends

Here we go again

One thing still remains

Seasons seasons change

C'mon yeah, seasons change

C'mon yeah, seasons change

The seasons seasons change

Uh, yeah seasons change

Uh, yeah seasons change

Happy turns to sad

And sometimes life gets bad

And things get rearranged

Nothing stays the same

It just never ends

Here we go again

One thing still remains

The seasons seasons change

Yeah, c'mon
