Heaven Has To Wait

Rachel Stevens

I can't explain what I don't understand
Time slipping through my hands
As the seconds turn to yesterdays
I think that in my world it's so serene
I'm driven by a dream
One night when we're alone again
Feeling's getting closer each day
This setting's now the right time to say
I just wanna lay down beside you
Be naked where you sleep
Sing you a love song
That makes your body weak
I can promise all of my tomorrows
My love for you today
I'll give you everything
But Heaven has to wait
I already know that you're the one
The earth around my sun
But still there's things I need to hide
I know I see an angels fly above
This heart can't hurry love
The time's not right for you and I
Feeling's getting closer each day
This setting's now the right time to say
I just wanna lay down beside you
And be naked where you sleep
Sing you a love song
That makes your body weak
I can promise all of my tomorrows
My love for you today
I'll give you everything
But Heaven has to wait
I feel so tempted, here in this life
Sure would be easy to love you tonight
Now's not the right time, here in the dark
Finding my secrets, Heaven has to wait
Heaven has to wait
I just wanna lay down beside you
Be naked where you sleep

Sing you a love song
That makes your body weak
I can promise all of my tomorrows
My love for you today
I'll give you everything
But Heaven has to wait
