

Hollow Man (parts 1 & 2)

Kula Shaker

I can only speak the word
As quickly, as quickly as they come
Looking down upon the bed
Suspended by a silver thread Im dreaming From the feeling I had to be sure
When you know that youve felt this before
Its a long road, long journey home Trying to see poetry
Within the shifting imagery of meaning
Well, if youre feeling hollow man, just throw the stone
To shatter your reflection with questions Well, if youre trying as hard as you can
To see where you fit in this plan
Its a long road, long lonely road It takes time to find the place you love
It takes time to find the place you love Well, if youve got to be sure
In that feeling youve got to take time
It takes time to find the place you love
Its a long road, long journey home
