Animal

Ellie Goulding

I'll show you all of the places I'm dreaming of I'll take you to the ocean
I'll bring the sunWe are seventeen, we have just begun
I have loved a five four and then some
But you are the one,the one, the one...Wake up in the morning, we're paralyzed
We'll fly into the garden
Like butterfliesThere will be no blood
And there'll be no pain
I want to fall in love with you
Again, again, again...You have stolen all my senses
There's a fever in my heart
And you are taking my defenses
You are pulling me apartForever we're young and we are dying
And will spilling all our blood
So I will take away my feelings
I will be an animal, an animal..I'll tie you in my arms, I will smother you
We'll tell each other lies
Like we tell the truthI'll colour in the sky and I'll colour you
I want to draw on your skin
Again, again, again..You have stolen all my senses
There's a fever in my heart
And you are taking my defenses
You are pulling me apartForever we're young and we are dying
And will spilling all our blood
So I will take away my feelings
I will be an animal, an animal..We will run away from danger
We will run awayYou have stolen all my senses
There's a fever in my heart
And you are taking my defenses
You are pulling me apartForever we're young and we are dying
And will spilling all our blood
So I will take away my feelings
I will be an animal, an animal..
