Just Give It Time

Jon Mclaughlin

Still waters, heavy hearts
The plans we make all fall apart
Disillusioned and lost in the gray
And how can we fix the heart when it breaks
Don't know how much more you can take
Just give it time, it's gonna get better
Now is not forever at all
Just give it time and everything changes
Tomorrow comes, today will be gone
And everything's gonna be alright
Just give it time, give it time
Quiet landslide when nobody knows
Regretted decisions that nobody chose
Under water, sinking fast
No way out, no way to get back
What might have been is lost in the past
Just give it time, it's gonna get better
Now is not forever at all
Just give it time and everything changes
Tomorrow comes, today will be gone
And everything's gonna be alright
Just give it time
When the world you're in is still again
And it all fades out
You've reached the end, begin again now
Now
Just give it time, it's gonna get better
Now is not forever at all
Just give it time and everything changes
Tomorrow comes, today will be gone
Just give it time, it's gonna get better
Now is not forever at all
Just give it time and everything changes
Tomorrow comes, today will be gone
Everything's gonna be alright
Everything's gonna be alright
Just give it time, yeah time
