Shrine

Liam McFadden

I am in circles
You're a straight line
You are the fix, I'd hope to find
And people can be soAll that I want now is not to change
You are the hope
You will stay the same
And people can let goI like to keep your pictures candle lit
I need you to be someone, I worship
Might be to hard to handle, if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrineI keep my distance
Every thing's clear
And there are no words, I need to hear
It's better for both of usAnd all that I want now
Is not stray
I need the strength you radiate
It's something, I can trustI like to keep your pictures candle lit
I need you to be someone, I worship
Might be to hard to handle if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrineIt's everything, I never told you
And I don't ever need to own you
I don't ever want to hold you
Until you die, so don't, don't, don'tI like to keep your pictures candle lit
I think you could be someone, I worship
Might be to hard to handle, if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrineI like to keep your pictures candle lit
I think you could be someone, I worship
Might be to hard to handle, if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrine

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/