

Shrine

Liam McFadden

I am in circles
You're a straight line
You are the fix, I'd hope to find
And people can be so All that I want now is not to change
You are the hope
You will stay the same
And people can let go I like to keep your pictures candle lit
I need you to be someone, I worship
Might be too hard to handle, if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrine I keep my distance
Every thing's clear
And there are no words, I need to hear
It's better for both of us And all that I want now
Is not stray
I need the strength you radiate
It's something, I can trust I like to keep your pictures candle lit
I need you to be someone, I worship
Might be too hard to handle if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrine It's everything, I never told you
And I don't ever need to own you
I don't ever want to hold you
Until you die, so don't, don't, don't I like to keep your pictures candle lit
I think you could be someone, I worship
Might be too hard to handle, if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrine I like to keep your pictures candle lit
I think you could be someone, I worship
Might be too hard to handle, if you were mine
And that is why I built this shrine

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>