

Open Door (See You Later)

Christon Gray

I'm walking out that open door I ain't looking back no more see you later, see you later (Repeat 2x) Tell Urban Meyer and the mayor, The new Ohio player
Got everybody going up in the c-bus with a new art city banger
O-H, that's what they when they ask where I'm from then they say I-O Used to live up north from the Hudson but east side is home Marlo knows I'm the art work that art work to preserve sins
I was born living lightly and versed
Now I'm older and think I'm a perfect mix And mama don't be nervous, I know you wondering when I'm goin' worship You know I still got the heart of a servant; I'm just making these rappers nervous
I know, I'm perfect no apostrophe imperfect, Hena taught me how to be a worse man, but hope he hit a homerun on the first pitch, I know, school of roses baby
This a new Christon Grey and never stop learning Cats thought I sound like 50 shades, I know This God given talent was always a challenge of mine
Nobody can stop me he gave me a lot 't to climb
I try to explain it but really its harder to find I'll never conform to the way they think I should shine You know the funny thing is, I think they know me now
Running through my city, I think they know me now
Feel like they took forever, I think they know me
My family rolling with me, need you to hold me down Chorus I'm walking out that open door I ain't looking back no more see you later, see you later (Repeat 2x) What you know about merging the black n' white church in Linden boy
You know me as a artist I don't know how to tell yah I'm the youngest elder on the Linden board
I remember shopping the Berwick with my brother and grandma when I was still a boy Counting pills with my crew top billboard and when my album came out I was still employed Sorry this ain't no pity party love my wife for her mind and not just her pretty body uh My God not to mention my daughter got that swag like that mama looking just like her father I know
And being a man of the house is a challenge of mine, word
Nobody, can stop me they gave a lot 't to climb, yea
I tried to explain but really its harder to define Don't be worried about me homie I just be fine You know the funny thing is I think they know me now
Running through my city I think they know me now
Feel like it took forever I think they know me
My family rolling with me and I won't let you down Chorus I'm walking out that open door I ain't looking back no more see you later see you later (Repeat 4x)
