Never Be The Same

Ingram Hill

She takes another morning drive
She wonders if she's right this time
She dreams about a life in other scenes
She says it when I'm not around
She drinks herself all over town
And finds a way to live in miseryAnd it's all I need
To save myself
And leaveTell her I'm ok
And she knows everything, everything I'll say
Tell her it's a shame
'Cause I believe, my Love, you'll never be the sameShe lays awake, alone at night
She can't forget with all her might
She left a love that only you could see
Now she's sorry, desperate, feeling blue
She dreams about a life with you
The other side ain't always what it seems
