Somebody Else

Glenn Frey

Girl, I brought you a little present to celebrate tonight
And let you know everything's gonna be alright
In spite of all the love I'm feeling
I know there's something you're concealing
I was hoping you would ease my worried mindIf there's somebody else, you should let me know
If there's somebody else, better let him go
If there's somebody else, you can set him free
Tell that somebody else, you belong to me
You belong to meListen, I know every secret you've been keeping
Who you're going with and where you're sleeping
And I'm telling you, you got to stop it now
Hope you're listening to what I'm saying
This is not a silly game we're playing
It's the one and only thing I can't allowIf there's somebody else, you should set him free
If there's somebody else, then it's history
If he knew how it was, then he'd let you go
If there's somebody else, you should let him knowHow could you think that I would not see?
It shows that you got no respect for me
If there's somebody else, you got one more chance
If there's somebody else, it's a dead romanceI don't really wanna say goodbye
Oh, it would break my heart, if I should see you cry
You know you can't go on denying who I am
And darlin' that is why there can be no other manIf there's somebody else, then let me know
If there's somebody else, you better let him go
If there's somebody else, you can set him free
Tell that somebody else, you belong to meIf there's somebody else, somebody else
If there's somebody else, somebody else
Somebody, somebody, can't help thinking there's Somebody, somebody
I know there's somebody, somebody, somebody
