Everything Must Change

Paul Young

Everything must changeI was never one to back out of an argument
And say I was wrong
Even when I'd seen the other side
I'd hide my foolishness and carry onBut still I'd be embarrassed
'Cause they'd see what happened and they's play along
Until I back myself into a corner
I would only realize when they had goneAnd like a dream, a life, a reason
Everything must change
(Every, everything, everything must change)
And like a world, this earth and seasons
Everything must change
(Every, everything, everything must change)In the same way when we disagree
I wouldn't be the one to back down
Still I'd know that you had faith in me
Tell me something, am I letting you down?'Cause when I woke up and I saw the note
You pressed into the mirror frame
But it was easy to be angry at you but deep inside
I know we share the blameAnd now I'm like a dream, a life, a reason
Everything must change
(Every, everything, everything must change)
And like a world, this earth and seasons
Everything must change
(Every, everything, everything must change)I'm going back to the top to start myself off
But first of all somethings I need to know
When I'm scared of being wrong again
Won't you be the one I turn to to let me know, oh, let me know, ohPlease, let me be right for once
'Cause right now all I feel I do is wrong
And it's never too late to learn about love
And this victim needs your hand to hold onAnd like a dream, a life, a reason
Everything must change
(Every, everything, everything must change)
And like a world, this earth and seasons
Everything must change
(Every, everything, everything must change)And like a dream, a life, a reason
Everything must change
And like a world, this earth and seasons
Everything must changeAnd like a dream, a life, a reason
Everything must change
And like a world, this earth and seasons

Everything must changeAnd like a dream, a life, a reason
Everything must change
And like a world, this earth and seasons

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/