Without Regret

Feeling Left Out

She scrunches her toes Under the covers so no one knowsRosey red cheeks dissolved her tearsI know what it takes to live without regret You'll never know what it means to be her friendPhone calls filled with lies If you only knew how she sees you In her eyesHonestly you don't deserve herI know what it takes
you'll never know
what it means to be her friendThere's something about a girl In her underwear that can make you change your mindI know what it takes to live without regret you'll never know what it means to be her friendRepeat
