Five Minutes

Lorrie Morgan

You look so disbelievin' at my suitcase by the door
My taxis on it's way here, I cant take it anymore
Lately youve forgotten what lovin' me is about
Well, now youve got five minutes to figure it outYouve got five minutes to tell me what Ive needed to hear
Youve got five minutes to get me to believe youre sincere
Thats not much time to change my mind, itll take a miracle, no doubt
And youve got five minutes to figure it outNow Ive got your attention, heres what Ive got to say
Youd better do some talkin', cause my taxis on it's way
We used to set the nights on fire, now everyday is the same
Well, now youve got five minutes to kindle the flameYouve got five minutes to tell me what Ive needed to hear
Youve got five minutes to show me that youre really sincere
Thats not much time to change my mind, itll take a miracle, no doubt
And youve got five minutes to figure it outYou can start with, "Please, dont leave me" and then with, "I love you"
And if youd only kiss me the way you used to do
You could see a miracle come trueYouve got five minutes to tell me what Ive needed to hear
Youve got five minutes to show me that youre really sincere
And youve got five minutes to figure it out
Youve still got five minutes to figure it out
