

Never Give Up

BENT NOT BROKEN

A ringing in my head a constant sound that only I can hear sort of profound
A deeper meaning rings inside my head of feelings that I wish I would have never had Still I remember peace Its been some time it felt so good so true hard to imagine theres a thing I couldnt do power was mine, beauty was me boldness in my heart bound to set us free
Do not disturb the peace
coming down hurts so much still I remember peace and I never give up Rose-red skies turned dark one day all of a sudden something in my way a numbness in my brain I realize the dream that I was dreaming was a nightmare in disguise Who said it would be easy First you stumble, then you fall you better stand up, but you crawl life was simple and the future clear but all the brightness can disappear
still I remember peace and I never give up A broken heart will heal but not a broken soul if you dont give it all it takes you hear when the bell tolls they say lightning strikes never twice you wanna place a bet then dare to roll the dice Do not disturb the peace

still I remember peace and I never give up
