

Smalltown

Dale Watson and His Lone Stars

And every morning comes too soon
All your nights are sleepless
Poison arrows
To ruin your tomorrowsBelow suspicion
Cafes full of people dressed as spies
And all I know
Is guilt for being differentIt's always raining stones
There's a killer in my home
In a small town
Everybody looks the same
There are unwritten rules
Unspoken words
Should I pack my fear and go?I have to leave somehow
Before they run me out of town
I have to leave somehowAnd every morning comes too soon
All your nights are sleepless
Poison arrows
To ruin your tomorrows
There are unwritten rules
Unspoken words
Should I pack my fear and go?I have to leave somehow
Before they run me out of town
I have to leave somehowI have to leave somehow
Before they run me out of town
I have to leave somehowI have to leave somehow
Before they run me out of town
I have to leave somehowI have to leave somehow
Before they run me out of town
I have to leave somehow{Please sir I want some more}

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>