Yeasayer

I know, I know, I know every hour of the day
There's a whisper inside of her brain
Telling me who to kill, telling me who will live I'd do what she says, son, I'd do what you will I'd do what you say and I'd do what you will I'd do it again, again, again, again I know, I know, I know every hour you're awake
They'll be upping the price on your head
And now you're in reach so watch where you sleep They'll search day and night, can't forget what you did
You'll put up a fight, don't regret how you lived
A means to an end, end, an end, end
