

Photomaton

Jabberwocky

I let you rise away, can't feel your breath in my hairs

It seems to be years, and I'm alone and fake, and I'm alone and fake

If this world is too small to be two, a world without sense if I'm without you

It's always the wrong way, there's no return to life so you get your car and drive

Look at the game of your life, you never took all the dice

After all, curtains fall, there's no return to life, so get the car and dieWaiting for hope babe, there's no more light in my sky

See the pills in my hand, I'm running through your lies

You've got nothing to say, 'til I'm crossing the line

But you can't kill my name, demon's coming tonightWaiting for hope babe, there's no more light in my sky

See the pills in my hand, I'm running through your lies

You've got nothing to say, 'til I'm crossing the line

But you can't kill my name, demon's coming tonightThe dolls inside me cave in, blood and tears on my skin

My wounds bring up my fear, but I like this last, this last grip

I just wanna rid me of my pain, this happy violence is beating in my veins

It's always the wrong way, there's no return to life, I'm in the car and driveWaiting for hope babe, there's no more light in my sky

See the pills in my hand, I'm running through your lies

You've got nothing to say, 'til I'm crossing the line

But you can't kill my name, demon's coming tonightWaiting for hope babe, there's no more light in my sky

See the pills in my hand, I'm running through your lies

You've got nothing to say, 'til I'm crossing the line

But you can't kill my name, demon's coming tonight
