

Why Doesn't Anybody Like Me?

No Use For A Name

Maybe you dont understand it,
What keeps them awake at night
What goes through their little minds
When you turn off the light?
Always have to say orry tears are stained on the pillow
Like the light of the moon they can't be one, can't exist without the son
Lets think clearly for a while,
Can he shire without a smile?
Why Am i alone with no one to be found?
Looks like they know whats best for me
Why doesnt anybody like me i dont understand?
Guess Ill have to crawl inside andi dont know why

Im sitting by myself when the problem isnt mine
Been around the block a few times
Been beat up by all his friends
Learning life is like a maze that never seems to end
Like and open book, blank pages left for only him to write
Lie is short this chapter takes so long,
Can't tell the right from the wrong
Is so hard foryou to place an expression on his face
Why doesnt anybody like me, I dont understand?
Why my friends and family left me at six years old he wont be taught a meaning to this mess
He'll just have to take a guess, and make his own plan
Ane we'll never see the child that was forced to be a man
