

A Headline

Biffy Clyro

A million people are freaking out
A million people will die
A million people are changing clothes and giving each other the eye I've been watching with the lights out
You seem alright I see in the darkness, because I'm waiting for a headline to say that I'm worthy of a lifeline A million people are sucking cock
A million people will cry
Look at the people who fled their homes in the cities they were born to die
Spread the colour, forget the past
Spread the future, forget the past I've been watching with the lights out
Up close you're alright I see in the darkness, because I'm waiting for a headline to say that I'm worthy of a lifeline It's hip to be square
Julie told me?
It's hip to be square
Julie told me?
It's hip to be square
Julie told me?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>