Everyday

Wet Wet Wet

She cried herself another tear
And poured herself another fear
She's alone and so much more
And they don't love her any longer

A photograph of some old flame
Picture makes her day again
'Cause if the sun don't shine anymore
And she don't seem to mind

But lately it?s all gone wrong
And she don't know what's going on
And everyday
And she gives her heart away

Woah, everyday
And now she thinks she's too late
To be young and in love with someone
And broken memories fix her past

Tears up her life way too fast
She gives her love every night
And tries to take it very lightly
But lately it's all gone wrong

And she don't know what's going on
And everyday
And she gives her heart away
Woah, everyday

And now she thinks she's too late
To be young and in love with someone
Every night becomes the same
She's not got herself to blame

She pins her letter on the bedroom wall
The letter read my one and all
And says "My darling dear, I must confess my life?s a mess"
And maybe she got it wrong

She don't know what's going on
And everyday
And she gives her heart away
Woah, everyday

And now she thinks she's too late
To be young and in love with someone
Everyday
And she gives her heart away

Woah, everyday
And now she thinks she's too late
To be young and in love with someone
Everyday

She gives her heart away
And everyday
And she gives her heart away
And everyday

She gives her heart away
And everyday
She gives her heart away
Woah, and everyday

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by GALLAGHER, JULIAN/STANNARD, RICHARD/BROWN, JASON
Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/