Miss The Misery

Foo Fighters

If I had my way
If I had to lose
Wouldn't take back one thing
Never had much to choose
Then it dawned on me
Coming down on you
Like a cold sky raining under a burning moon
Waiting all your life your wish is coming true
Bless your heart for beating me right out of you
Miss the misery
Need a reason for a change
Need a reason to explain
So turn it on again
Don't change your mind
Your wasting light
Get in and let's go
What a nice long leash, what a nice tight noose

Never worked for me but sure would look good on you
Been waiting all your life your wish is coming true
Bless your heart for beating me right out of you
Miss the misery need a reason for a change
Need a reason to refrain
So turn it on again
Don't change our mind
Your wasting light
Get in and let's go
Miss the misery give me a reason for a change
Miss the misery give me a reason to refrain
Miss your misery today
Miss your misery today
C'mon and turn it on again
Don't change your mind your wasting light
Don't make this right
Don't make this right
Get in and let's go
