Epidemic

Pillar

Is it such a crime to be a paradigm?

So many people have to think it's just a waste of time

But the truth is, the truth is a lieIt's a sign of the changing times

Kinda feelin' like it's time for me to climb, me to rhyme

While I'm fightin' for the lost in the meantimeI don't be goin' at it part time, lookin' for the prime time People have to think it's just a pastime

But in the same way I thought it really [Incomprehensible]We're in the middle of an outbreak

It's no joke just high stakes

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on

So be wise and decide to changeIt's a hard concept to grasp

When you're playing with fire and you keep throwin' on gas

Eventually you'll get burned with a big blastWe stand fast withstanding the whiplash we make it last And raise our colors to the top of the mast

Because the sands filling fast in the hourglassSo unmask and forget your past, stay on path

The world's labeled you as an outcast

Well, here's a newsflash you'll never see teeth gnashWe're in the middle of an outbreak

It's no joke just high stakes

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on

So be wise and decide to changeI feel what's real in my mind inside

I feel what's real in my mind insideWe're in the middle of an outbreak

It's no joke just high stakes

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on

So be wise and decide to changeWe're in the middle of an outbreak

It's no joke just high stakes

You can't escape what seeks you out

You can't escape what seeks you out

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on

So be wise and decide to changeWell, there's an epidemic goin' on

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on

Well, there's an epidemic goin' on
