

Nothing Left to Say

Late Night Alumni

Another day has come and gone
And I've been holding in
Not holding on Feeling out of place, I
I'm wanting to escape, I
I pack my bags
With nothing left to say To say It's when I think I've figured out
The figure's simply turning
Inside out Burn before it catches, I
I rummage through the ashes, I
I turn the page
With nothing left to say To say
To say Another day has come and gone
And I've been holding in
Not holding on
