

Party at the Lexington Queen

Audio Karate

let me introduce you to the private eyes that hunt you gonna paste the clues when i go home we're gonna try to make it work tired of information messing with the operation words will carry a riddle when i go home I'm gonna try to make it!i hate calling you out. you're so into the phone your lines a mental casein the air the cries will go through past the ball of lies that i threw gonna make this work well you're on your own you're gonna try to make it work
tired of information messing with the operation words on the carriage of rhythm? oh wait my phone!
we're gonna try to make iti hate call you out you're so into the phone your lines a mental case we're going far when i say the lines are opening she's given all when i say the crimes an open case we're going far when i say these lines are open wide you're gonna call when i say these lines are open wide return to sender party at the Lexington queen
