Breathe In

Alisha's Attic

You thought there was no life left
You forgot that there are stars
You forgot the days and nights
Had just one long hour of dark
But didn't I tell you to
Breathe in and push it out
And didn't I tell you to Breathe in and push it outI wanna teach you how to be sweet
But quite volatile if you need
Everybody'll be scared you'll explode
But you can get to forgivingBut just remember to
Breathe in and push it out
I said remember to
Breathe in and push it outOoo, and there is calm under the waves
I promise you you'll be quite safe
If you unwrap youself
You've been too long afraidYou thought there was no life left
You forgot that there are stars
You forgot the days and nights
Had just one long hour of darkBut remember to
Breathe in and push it out
I said remember to
Breathe in and push it outDidn't I tell you to
Breathe in and push it out
Remember to
Breathe in and push it out
