

Runaway

Cascada

From London to Paris
From Berlin to Rome
You're searching for something
A place to call home Been hiding your feelings
Went out of control
Your destination's unknown Tell me, how can it be, boy, you're still a runaway?
You chase the dream from heaven above
Where in this world will you find a place to stay?
You runaway from love How can it be, boy, you're still a runaway?
You chase the dream from heaven above, baby
Baby, where in this world will you find a place to stay?
You runaway from love, runaway from love, runaway A new town, a new place, a knock on the door
You came as a stranger and entered the bar
The moment I saw you I knew it for sure
You won't pack your bags anymore Tell me, how can it be, boy, you're still a runaway?
You chase the dream from heaven above
Where in this world will you find a place to stay?
You runaway from love How can it be, boy, you're still a runaway?
You chase the dream from heaven above, baby
Baby, where in this world will you find a place to stay?
You runaway from love, runaway from love, runaway I know you don't want to be a bother
Though your love's still undiscovered
I want you to stay boy
Stop runnin' away from love Tell me how can it be, boy, you're still a runaway?
You chase the dream from heaven above
Where in this world will you find a place to stay?
You runaway from love How can it be, boy, you're still a runaway?
You chase the dream from heaven above, baby
Baby, where in this world will you find a place to stay?
You runaway from love, runaway from love
