

Summer so Far

Matthew Wesley

This is the summer so far.
One bad move and boom you're gone,
just one more time for the voice of reason.
I bet the summer so far,
is just you around my neck. This is the summer so far.
One more time and I'll be gone,
how does it feel to know it's over?
We'll bet the summer so far, is just you around my head. Vent if you need to,
kick and rage in desperation,
release the demons,
exercise our fear of leaving,
you letting me down,
just know that all I ever had,
was you around my neck. Back here we miss you,
I memorized like it was nothing.
And I guess I need you,
we jot it down from isolation.
So where's your reasons?
We looked down,
it was over you around my neck. This is the summer so far.
One bad move and boom you're gone,
Just one more time for the voice of reason.
Let's bet the summer so far,
is just you around my neck. This is the summer so far.
One bad move and boom you're gone,
Just one more time for the voice of reason.
I bet the summer so far,
is one more time and I'll be gone,
we'll burn the page in this book of seasons,
Let's bet the summer so far,
are you around my neck?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>