

Now That There's You

Diana Ross

Now that there's you
I can get up in the morning
Look down the lonesome road
Know that I have the strength to carry on
Now that there's you Love abides in my soul
I have a purpose, I have a goal
I can reach out and touch the star
Yesterday it seemed so far
Now that there's you, oh you No matter the trial
I'll get by 'coz I know
There's an answer
Somewhere in your smile
Now that there's you I can reach that mountain top
Till I get there I won't stop
I've a new sense of pride
It makes me do things I never tried
Now that there's you, oh you I can feel, I am real
At last I taste the honey
I'm alive for the first time
And the sun shines over
Now that there's you
Oh hey, you Hey hey, oh oh oh oh oh I see all the colors
The world was supposed to be
And now a robin sings
And I know there's spring
Now that there's you Every day I seem to find
A new dimension of my mind
I'm no longer a piece of clay
My heart has somethin' it longs to say
Now that there's you, oh you I can feel I am real
At last I taste the honey
I'm alive for the first time
And the sun shines over
Now that there's you Thank you baby, I feel I am real
At last I taste the honey
I'm alive for the first time
And the sun shines over
Now that there's you Yeah I'm real, I'm real
At last I taste the honey

I'm alive for the first time
And the sun shines over
Now that there's you, yeah heyLa la la la la
La la la la la la la
I'm alive for the first time
And the sun shines over
Now that there's you, oh hey heyI'm real, I'm real
At last I taste the honey
I'm alive for the first time
And the sun shines over
Now that there's you
