The Coldest Sun

Danzig

Blessed morning rays, blessed ice
Kiss the hand that offers this, kiss the hand that offers life
There's no one alone, scream, I'll always need you
There's no love awakened in your homeOh, there's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found
There's something out there alone
The coldest sun where I lieEmpty offering, that you hold
Kiss the hand that clings to life, blessed coldOh, there's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found
There's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I foundThere's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found
Coldest sun that I found
