

The Coldest Sun

Danzig

Blessed morning rays, blessed ice
Kiss the hand that offers this, kiss the hand that offers life
There's no one alone, scream, I'll always need you
There's no love awakened in your home Oh, there's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found
There's something out there alone
The coldest sun where I lie Empty offering, that you hold
Kiss the hand that clings to life, blessed cold Oh, there's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found
There's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found There's something out there alone
The coldest sun that I found
Coldest sun that I found
