Cosmetic

My Ruin

elegantly wasted and i can taste it here i sit, trying not to fake this gift of the beauty myth i can't help but feel like this bored... of the beauty whore cos my body just wants more scars... and i can feel them wounds... i can't heal them red bring my mouth to life black revive my hair that's dyed make up always helps me hide what i don't like on the outside[chorus] starlight, starbright first star i see tonight i wish i may, i wish i might have the wish i wish tonighta birthday girl a broken heart you name the drama she played the part long lost demons leave her godless like her powder leaves her flawless sugar coated heart shaped pout lipstick just destorts her mouth mascara puts her eyes to sleep cos beauty's only skin deep[repeat chorus]bitch du jour served on a platter she's so pretty but does it matter beauty is in the eyes of the beholder but nobody told her mirror mirror on the wall watch her break and watch her fall stitch her smile bruise her knees walk among her enemiesblessed am i among women to live and love in such a beautiful temple blessed am i among women
