

Pins and Needles

Matt Goss

I've got pins and needles
I've been drinking, butterflies
Cos my head talks too much
It knows that my stupid heart will listen
You're feeling like a paper cut
You're not quite there but deep enough to say
Man don't this hurt
I think that it's getting worse (oh yeah) I need to breathe
The trouble is what I need
Only takes my breath away So won't you leave me
Right now
While I've got the strength
Not to miss your face again
I'm asking won't you leave me
Cos i know I'll find love
And someone who will take your place
I'll know I'll find someone I've got pins and needles
I lost my appetite
Thank God your words are toxic
Today you taste like a different person
This hurt keeps covering me
A quicksand I've been struggling
But you made me relax
And freed me from your dark indifference I need to breathe
The trouble is what I need
Only takes my breath away So won't you leave me
Right now
While I've got the strength
Not to miss your face again
I'm asking won't you leave me
Cos I know I'll find love
Someone who will take your place
I'm asking won't you leave me yeah
While I've got the strength
Not to miss your face again
I'm asking won't you leave me
Cos I know I'll find love and
Someone who will take your place I know I'll find someone
Making love for the last time (repeat into fade)

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>