Sara's Mask

Cky

The first time I saw you I thought that I
Would just make another
And then I realized that in life you were
Just another mirror
The first words you spoke were the ones that I
Vaguely remember
But tied in a knot all the times that we
Haven't spent together
And is it your face
That's got you down?
Or is it your mind (mine)
When no one's around?
(Thinking thoughts of a suicide)
And is it your face (mine)
That's got you down?
Or is it your mind
When no one's around?
And now when she leaves in the dark
Behind amber waves of cancer
A stroll in the park is a walk from her
Hopes to be a dancer
A light at the end of a tunnel that's
Been going on forever
You don't understand why these people
Are looking unfamiliar
So take my hand
I will walk you around in a mask
Why don't you tell me now
Is it your face
That's got you down?

Or is it your mind (mine)
When no one's around?
(Thinking thoughts of a suicide)
And is it your face (mine)
That's got you down?
Or is it your mind
When no one's around?
And now when you leave in the dark

Inside everybody's answers
You're planning a way to abandon us
And live your life the way you like
Avoiding the urge to go sulk
In your remedial appearance
Sara I only expect to see
The whole thing a little bit clearer
So take my hand
I will walk you around in a mask
Why don't you tell me now
Is it your face
That's got you down?
Or is it your mind (mine)
When no one's around?
(Thinking thoughts of a suicide)
And is it your face (mine)
That's got you down?
Or is it your mind
When no one's around?
So take my hand
I will walk you around in a mask
Why don't you tell me now
