The Lonely 1

Wilco

After the show you walked right past
Arms reached out for your autograph
And as you flashed your backstage pass
I caught your eye with a camera's flashWhen the band came out, they stood behind you
Cymbals crashed, the lights went blue
You stood alone in the halo's haze
Shinny guitar hung on gold lamayAnd you, you were the lonely 1
You were the lonely 1When you perform it's so intense
When the critics pan I write in your defense
I understand I'm just a fan, I'm just a fanWhen I get home I turn off the alarm
I've checked the phone, no messages on
I play the ones from yesterday
I play you're song just to hear you say thatYou, you're the lonely 1
You are the lonely 1You, you're the lonely 1
You are the lonely 1
