

Live Your Life - Down

Tantric

If you live your life, you live your life this way
It's gonna change
If you live your life, you live your life this way
It's gonna change Well time and time again I cannot Find the reason why my life is all right
But I just can't stop the pain Well look into your heart
Look into your mind, look into your soul
Let it go and I don't know what to say Yeah run away run away with the pain
That I told you once I could not spare
It's only satisfaction now this time of the year Run away run away with the pain
That I told you once I could not spare
It's only satisfaction, was fear Well if you live your life, you live your life this way
It's gonna change
If you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change I always breaking off
I would forget it away
Trying to run from myself
And at the same time fade away I never bothered to Never bothered you
Never bothered me
When I left and I said what I had to say Run away run away with the pain
That I told you once I could not spare
It's only satisfaction now, this time of the year Run away run away with the pain
That I told you once I could not spare
It's only satisfaction, fear Now I told you before I opened you up
And then you shut me down
I told you before I opened you up
And then you shut me down If you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change
If you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change, gonna change Well if you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change
If you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change If you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change, yeah
If you live your life, if you live your life this way
It's gonna change
