

The Way...

TCP

winds of worry blowing strong the nights are cold the hours long ya try to shed some light upon this place the news reports are dark and blue it's clear this world is not for you just try and keep a smile upon your face....okay are we, are we really on the quest for light to shine upon....us.... your free will is... all you have to lift the veil and go beyond yourself feel the peace of deep commune you and i confide but must alone find the course... and stay the way one day samadhi you're out of the body and well on your way how does it feel when the light is revealed i can't say you gotta be tough and strong and stay on the way if you awake in a place void of matter wait for me there you gotta be tough and strong and stay on the way if you get where opal light shines the brightest wait for me there are we are we really on the quest for light to shine upon.... us how are we to know?
