Idle Hours

Anacrusis

Repeat this habitual course
To lift this weight which drags me under
Treading in my remorse
I must stay above the surface longerShattering, shattering needed rest
Awakened reality, I must confront
Without these idle hours of sleepWelcome this simple change
Find solace in my frequent slumber
Leaving the once mundane
Escape this world of wretched plunderShattering, shattering needed rest
Awakened reality, I must confront
Without these idle hours of sleep
