

You (Prettier Than)

Stephen Lynch

Hand in hand we walk the city
'Neath the darkened skies
Stealing kisses in the shadows away from prying eyes
Hiding out from those we know
Secrets whispered voices low
Pulses racing, hearts aflame, a love that dare not speak its name Well we just can't let people see, that you're not hot enough for me
Don't tell our families or our friends, say one word and this thing ends
It's true, cuz I'm prettier than you
I'll take you on a special date, enjoy your company
If someone we know happens by, just hide behind that tree
To a late night picture show, or planetarium we'll go
A midnight picnic in the park, anywhere that's really dark Well we just can't let people see that you're not hot enough for me, but I'll enjoy this right or wrong Till someone better comes along
My boo
Someone prettier than you
I wish I weren't a shallow man, I wish that I cared not I wish I weren't so superficial, I wish you were more hot
I should not be ashamed, you see
I love your personality
What we have is good and true, for you've got me and lucky you....
Oh we just can't let people see that you're not hot enough for me
So close your eyes and sing along, at least I wrote you a love song
It too, is prettier than you
