Captured State

Amorphis

So many years I've been fading
And closed the doors behind
Pay that price if you lost it all
The end is not the past recallWaiting for the enclosing darkness
And there you will be the light
As it's carved in your soul
Step out from your mouldThe captured mind is a captured state
But only free will has its sustain
You burn away all you once loved
Now it's time to turn awayThe captured mind is a captured state
But only free will has its sustain
You burn away all you once loved
Now it's time to turn awayIt's all too clear you've been hiding
Nothing to tell but lies
Feel the shame when you disdain it all
Your stand is not the past recallWaiting for the enclosing darkness
And there you will be the light
As it's carved in your soul
Step out from your mouldThe captured mind is a captured state
But only free will has its sustain
You burn away all you once loved
Now it's time to turn awayThe captured mind is a captured state
But only free will has its sustain
You burn away all you once loved
Now it's time to turn awayThe captured mind is a captured state
But only free will has its sustain
You burn away all you once loved
Now it's time to turn awayThe captured mind is a captured state
But only free will has its sustain
You burn away all you once loved
Now it's time to turn away, turn away
