I Confess

Admiral Twin

Where did we begin?
I need to write it down
I need to breathe again
How far have we come?
These memories are miles
Divided by the sum

And everybody says the writing's on the wall
We'll never gonna make it through another fall

I spend all my time
Like I have (letting more?)
The road ran to my door
Now it comes to this
I'm losing everything
I've never felt so rich

All the trees in the wind are bending like they're wise
In the rattle and rush of another year on fire

All I can say
Is I'm in love with you
In a world where nothing's every true

And I confess
I need you more or less to be my faith and hope and charity
That kind of life sounds good to me
I confess
I want you at my best
To be my morning-after after day
It's what I came down here to say

I'm alive
I feel so alive

And I confess
I need you more or less to to be
my faith and hope and charity

That kind of life sounds good to me
I confess
I want you at my best
To be my morning-after after day
It's what I came down here to say
That's It's what I came down here to say
