Some Become Strangers

Stevie Nicks

In the beginning, I believed in love and things
It happened like a hurricane
I could never really tell you what this did to me
I could never make it better for you, anywayThing is, time was Part of me used to love you
Part of me still does, this light here
Some become strangersDid it have to be so easy to live without it
I was hoping to remember you with just a smile
Now the memory of giving you is giving out
Well, I could say that I knew it all the whileThing is, time was Part of me used to love you
Part of me still does, this light here
Some become strangersDidn't want to be the one to say goodbye, in a stranger's eyes
Look how we've changed
I don't really need this in my life
Why don't we forget about itThing is, time was
Part of me used to love you
Part of me still does, this light here
Some become strangers
Let your soul become a strangerBaby, you're no stranger, you're no stranger not that I am
Well, you've become that stranger
And let your soul become a stranger
Well, you're no stranger not that I am
So you do it I think that you should do it, well you do it

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/