Whispers in the Dark

Hanoi Rocks

I saw you looking at me in the eye, I was hypnotized, so surprised
A memory from another time, Hit me from behind, where could I hide
Don't touch me, don't ask me, If I remember how I met you
I left you, oh please don't remind me, Forget me, don't kiss me
Don't touch me again, I can't forget, can't forget, can't forget you
And in my mind I think of old times, Sometimes at night I cry till it's light
This jealousy is burning these tears I see, Are slowly killing me, slowly killing me
Now that I've had to face what I've lost, It's time to pay the price for my lies
And in my mind I think of old times, I can't forget your whispers in the dark
I can't forget your whispers in the dark, I can't forget, can't forget, can't forget
