

Deepest Shame

Plan B

There's no way back from here on out
Only one place left to go, one place left to go, now

She's crashing like an airplane
From a sky of thunderstorm and rain
On autopilot shes flying, aim for the target, kamikaze, go up in flames
This life issomething she must pay
Pay the price for her mistakes
I guess she only has herself to blame
And to her that's the deepest shame

There's no way back from here on out
She was once a princess,
But now she's a mess,
A fiend for a fix like the rest,
Eliciting sex and pocket less,
But she was a sweet thing never the less, back in the day
Abused as a child
She was always likely to end up this way
The past lived in the dark parts of the brain
And only heroin seemed to take away the pain
So she folded the foil and lit the flame
Inhale exhale out once again

She's on the game
We all know her face and the standard going rate
Just not the name
With only herself to blame she lives this hell
But there's a millions other girls just like Michelle
Out in the streets with nothing else to sell
To these desperate males other than themselves, so
There's no way back from here on out
There's no way back from here on out
I've been walking alone this lonely road
For so long long now I just can't tell
If there's any way back the way I came

Though I've lost my path, it's the deepest shame
I've been dragging myself to the lowest of low
There's such a way I just don't know
If the path I take is something I can change
What gets in my way is the deepest shame
There's no way back from here on out,
There's no way back from here on out,
There's no way back from here on out
