Not My Plan

Ben Jelen

Every day I write the book And how the story changes The people come and go The feelings stay the same

Tell me whats wrong

Show me the moon that I fell from

Help me to find where I belong

Here on this earth

Its getting harder to return All the lessons I have learned The knowledge I have gained Somehow the tables turned

Was I lost out in space?
Was I looking to find an altered state?
Wanting to save the human race
Here on this earth

I weighted it down Across my heart But when I fell back I had no start

I have to pretend To make my amends But I must admit

This was not my plan
This was not my plan
This was not my way at all
This was not my plan
