Joshua's Day

Sinnergod

Won't somebody help me, I'm feeling like I'm afraid of all and everything
I can't see no sunshine, stop the clock, pause the world from turning just for one day
There's no star's around me, all that twinkles is fire reflections of wolves at the door
Haunted by the past times, drown my thoughts, wash away misery that's brought in from the rainThe fire in me, all has burned away
Cold as ice and to never be seen
So promise me, you will lead the way
If you can't then just stop the world turning like Joshua's dayWon't somebody stop this?
Everyday is the same, cry out its not me who's to blame
Haunted by the past times, drown my thoughts, wash away misery that's brought in from the rainThe fire in me, all has burned away
Cold as ice and to never be seen
So promise me, you will lead the way
If you can't then just stop the world turning like Joshua's day
