Stop Taking Photographs

I Am Kloot

Stop taking photographs, your brittle heart'll never bleed Took your big head to succeed, it hasn't been a million laughs
So stop taking polaroids, of all the things that you avoid
There are no lessons in your path, so stop taking photographsThe naked lights revealed you, shattered and then sealed you in your dreams and this loneliness has stripped you, unbuttoned and unzipped you til ya fell apart at the seemsStop taking photographs, your brittle heart'll never bleed
It took your big head to succeed, it hasn't been a million laughs
So stop taking polaroids, of all the things that you avoid
There are no lessons in your path, so stop taking photographsand the naked lights revealed you, shattered and then sealed you in your dreams
and this loneliness has stripped you, unbuttoned and unzipped you til ya fell apart at the seems
