

Love Untold

Janie Becker

They were gonna meet, on a rocky mountain street
Two bashful hearts beat in advance
Their hands were gonna sweat, it was all set
She ain't showed up yet, still a good chanceIt's a love untold
It's a love untoldChecking on her face, checks his sleeve for his ace
And both just in case wear clean underwear
Games would be played, excuses would be made
The stupid things they said in their prayersOh, about a love untold
It's a love untoldSoft hands slowly move across the blank white page
Thinking of words for my silent lips and fingers to obeyIt's a love untold
It's a love untoldThey were gonna meet on a crummy little street
It never came to be, I'm told
Does anyone recall the saddest love of all
The one that lets you fall, nothing to holdIt's the love untold
It's the love untoldOnce upon a love untold
Once upon a love untoldOnce upon a love untold
Just another love untoldThey were gonna meet on a crummy little street
We were gonna meet on a crummy little street
