Eternity

Imelda May

Since I met you baby, I feel that you somehow saved me
Your smile lets me know that your heart warmly glows
It took forever to find eternity
It took forever to find eternity

Time flew by me, now I understand you see
Time played a waiting game, it seems you felt the same, oh
It took forever to find eternity
It took forever to find eternity

When love passes by, no one really understands why
But time will help you see
Another wait, is not too late, to find eternity

Love is now set free, the waiting game was the key
And when I see you standing there, everything now seems fair
It took forever to find eternity
It took forever to find eternity

Yeah Yeah
It took forever to find eternity
It took forever to find eternity.
