

Glass Slipper

Jenni Reid

Well the man went out for a walk
Grabbed the leash and he took his dog
Well the dog came back by himself
Now you know to always tell
Well the girl went down for a swirl
It was the last time she ever took a whirl
Now you know that this is the last time

Well the heart broke when the bird choked
And the tree split with the lightning bolt
And I'm gonna say that it's the same
As the gun in the drawer of the nun

Well the knife in your back it cannot turn around
Once it's stabbed it's the lab that you can't test now
And if you've got a question you know I've got the answer
But now I'm hanging in the closet
