Clean Up Your Act

Stalag 13

Clean up your act
You tell me that everyday
Well you should take a look at your own self
Before you start judging me
Because at least I try to keep my head Straight, and be loyal to my friends
That's the least I can say for you
When the backstabbing begins

You got to your cocktail parties
And you get fucked up
Then you go upstairs and you cheat on your Wife it's a fucking social circus
Like lying to your friends
Then you try and tell me to clean up my act again

Clean up my act
I don't think I see it that way
Because I have my own views on everything
And at least I try to keep my head straight
And be loyal to my friends
That's the least I can say for you
When the backstabbing begins
